Rainlendar will not start
Posted by fenixphred - 2010/05/09 08:02

Rainlendar will not start when I start windows. I had been using it for quite a few years, and have been using it with Windows 7, 64 bit, until about a month ago. I now have to use a desktop icon to start it every time I start windows. It should start, as I have it checked to enable on start up. I have tried putting it in startup, but that does not work. any help would be appreciated.

If you start the msconfig tool (use the search field in the start menu to find it) is Rainlendar listed in the startup tab? Have you noticed any similar problems with other applications or is Rainlendar the only app which doesn't start properly with Windows?

Rainlendar is listed in msconfig, and this is the only app not starting correctly.

I can't really say what could be reason for this then. There isn't any difference wether the application is started manually or automatically by Windows. Rainlendar does check for multiple instances on startup which could be malfunctioning but you would get a message box in that case.

Does this happen with the 64bit or 32bit version of Rainlendar? Or both?

Originally used it with 32 it XP, and no problems, Then used it with 64 bit 7 Ultimate, and no problems. Suddenly, it just would not load at startup with the 7 64 bit, and that is where it stands now.

So, Rainlendar is listed as a startup program in the msconfig but yet it doesn't start? I have no idea why this could happen and I'm also not able to reproduce the problem myself so I don't know how to fix it.

Still having this same problem with start up. Any more ideas of what might be happening?

Since downloading the newest version, Rainlander now starts normally. I don't know what changes have been made, but it solved my problem.
