Rainlendar does not show events more than 1 day
Posted by silvershado - 2011/03/20 19:53

Hi!

I've recently started using Rainlendar2.8 and I'm not sure if I found a bug. Here is my finding:

When I create an reaccuring event in Outlook that starts at 10:30pm and goes into the next day 6:30am, it does not show on the "week view" window shadow 4 skin on Rainlendar. But it does display correctly in Outlook's calendar weelky view.

Any input on this would be great =)

Thanks!

I'm not able to reproduce this. Can you attach an example event which shows the problem? Please save it as Outlook Message Format *.msg and attach here (or sent to the Rainlendar's support email with link to this thread).

I found two related issues: (example)

a) If a event is from 3/1 22:00 to 3/2 06:00, and is set to recurring, the tips of the event will always display the event is from 3/1 22:00 to 3/2 06:00, even on other day.

b) The same event, if set to repeat daily, "Week View" will only highlight the 22:00 to 23:59.

Thanks so much for the reply, attached is the screenshot and the Outlook msg file for the event.

But the event doesn't show up on the week view if set as 11:00pm - 7:00 am as shown below. (TUES & WED & SAT: 12:00-7:00am does not show)

I also found a workaround for the moment which is shown on the image as well (SUN & MON) I make two events one which starts 11:00pm - 11:59pm and another the next day from 12:00am - 7:00am

Thanks for looking into this,

Warm Regards,
Silver

The reason why this happens is that Rainlendar isn't prepared do display the same event twice on the same day. I cannot promise that the issue gets fixed any time soon since it would require a lot of changes to the way the events are handled inside the application. So, you just need to use the workaround for now.
