Different options Mac vs Windows (Shadow4 Dual)
Posted by rakeshg - 2012/11/06 17:10

Hi - when I use Rainlendar2 on Windows (Shadow4 Dual Calendar skin), I have options to display more than 2 months. However, this option is not available on the Mac? Am I missing something?

I did a search on the forums for "Mac" but could not see a related topic.

Thanks -

Welcome to the forum, rakeshg.

The Dual Calendar have only 2 months. Maybe you're looking for the Grid Calendar? In the settings, you can set the number of month in X and in Y.

So... yes I was looking for the Shadow4 Grid and yes that works. However, I can't change the X and Y values (they keep reverting back to 2). On the PC I have the X = 2 and Y = 3 and it works fine. My setup is MacBook Pro (Retina) 13" with Mountain Lion (10.8.2). Any idea what I may be doing wrong? Thanks for your help. UPDATE: On a different Mac (with Lion), the behavior is the same as the PC...

Try upgrading to the latest beta version. The Mac version of the grid control has some issues...

Tried the latest Beta version - unfortunately, same issue on Mac with Mountain Lion... :(

Ok, I tried this with Lion and you need to move the focus out of the editor (e.g. by pressing the tab key) before you click ok in the dialog. Otherwise the new value doesn't get applied. Seems like a bug in the framework.

Thank you!!! That worked with Mountain Lion. I could not tab out of the "Y" grid value, so had to click on another data entry field elsewhere - then the change stuck.
