Stop rain lender from stealing focus

Hi, I notice that rainlender steals focus from the current window, which is a problem when I do dictations on my computer. Is there a way to prevent rainlender from capturing focus?

Can you give some more details? When exactly Rainlendar is stealing to focus? All the time or e.g. when an alarm is shown? Have you enabled some additional windows in the skin? If you hide all other windows except the calendar is the focus moved then still?

hi, to answer your questions:

When exactly Rainlendar is stealing to focus? All the time or e.g. when an alarm is shown?

The program seems still focus when an alarm is shown

Have you enabled some additional windows in the skin?

No I have not.

If you hide all other windows except the calendar is the focus moved then still?

Yes, the issue seems to revolve around the alarm windows that pop up.

Do you have Options->Advanced->"Keep alarm on top" and/or Options->Advanced->"Show due to the event" setting enabled? If you do, does disabling them change anything?

What does the "Show due to event" option do?

And yes, the other option about forcing focus seems to have been a major culprit, The program works much better now, thank you.
