
how far ahead/back tasks display

Is there a way to shorten or lengthen the time window for displaying to-do's? For example, I'd like to get it to display items a week into the future (based on due date) but only three days into the past... so old items eventually disappear w/o being hidden.

Is it possible to do that or even just adjust the number of days total?

You can use the start date to define when the task is shown in the list but it's not possible to define any limits how far in the past they are shown.
