EventIconAlign
Posted by sholmes1 - 2006/11/11 13:11

I am using an edited skin from the old Rainlendar and all it working mostly ok. Editing the INI file for EventIconAlign posts the event icon in a certain place on the day the event falls on. With Rainlendar2 it puts all the icons in the upper left corner for everything so if I have multiple events for that day the icons are on top of each other. Is event icon placement be added to Rainlendar2?

Thanks....

I noticed that if you have multiples of the same kind of event, those icons are placed in the other corners. Can it be set up that you can tell what corner you want the icons in? Or maybe have it automatically place icons in other coners and middle if there are multiple event icons that are different?

Can you attach the skin? I can check if the old ini skin support could be improved.

hmm, i have something in this vein. sorry if it should be a separate report. i have categories as below:

```
  <category id="MoonNew">
   <appearance target="31" layer="0" priority="1" element="bitmap.icon.MoonNew" showalways="1" align="TOP-CENTER"
  </category>
  <category id="MoonFull">
   <appearance target="31" layer="0" priority="1" element="bitmap.icon.MoonFull" showalways="1" align="TOP-CENTER"
  </category>

and for the first 2 rows (weeks) of a calendar, the icon is aligned TOP-CENTER of the event's day. but for 3rd and lower weeks, the icons are aligned what looks to be BOTTOM-LEFT, very hard to know what day it belongs to.

and no tooltip icons either ;)

If it is not too big, here is the skin. If it is too big, I can email it to you.

I had to edit the original Rainlendar skin to work properly with R2.

ok - the cursor is on Dec 20, but the New Moon icon is bottom; whereas on Dec 4 the Full Moon icon is top (it's defined at TOP-CENTER but looks more TOP-LEFT).

on Nov 20 there's the same thing, but also a plane icon to interfere - are there rules about how multi icon placement is done/overridden?

no tooltip - i'm not making it up :D

thanks!

I'm not sure what could cause that. You could try to put the moon icons to a separate layer and see if that helps. Or send me the skin I can take a look at it.

Currently the icons on the same layer are tiled automatically. I'm not sure if how well the alignment works in the current version as I do remember that I had a lot of problems figuring out how the icons should be laid out on the calendar.
