
Match 'default' window decorations?

Posted by chrisbd - 2010/01/26 04:32

Is it possible to get Rainlendar to conform to the default window decorations on my desktop?

I run xfce on my xubuntu 9.10 system and whatever skin I use with Rainlendar it sticks out like a sore thumb on my desktops. I'd much prefer it to simply use the same frame and title bars that the rest of my applications use. If it's possible how do I do it?

You would have to create a skin which includes the window decorations.
