
Google Calender + Skinning

Posted by Jetpac - 2006/12/06 13:53

Is it possible to sync Rainlendar and google calender without having to upload/download files manually?

if so how?

many thanks

oh and also how do i get rid of the year in the default skin? (the 2006 appearing under the calender) i cant work it out

cheers

If you get the registered version you can download google calendar automatically, upload does not work.

To remove the year, change the shadow4.r2skin in the skin directory of Rainlendar to a .zip. Then extract its contents and go to the xml subdirectory. edit calendar.xml and remove the line that starts with <year ...>
