

---

modify transparency with Button

Posted by frank_schrank - 2010/03/28 12:06

---

Hi,

I want to integrate a button for toggling the transparency-fade-out-feature. So that, when I want to work in the calendar, it doesn't fade out but stays visible, even when no mouse floating over items. After finishing, I want to be able to toggle it back to fade-out-mode (without clicking through the Options-menu).

A function like e.g. "action=setNormalTransparency(100)" would do... is there something like that?

Hope someone know sth...

(since the freakin' cookie eating machine logged me out and therefore deleted my question, here now the short version)

=====

Re: modify transparency with Button

Posted by admin - 2010/03/30 12:34

---

It might be possible with the Rainlendar_SetOption() but that requires a full refresh so it's not a good solution for your purposes. I'll see if changing the window properties could be added to the API.

=====