Skins for higher resolutions

I went hunting for a skin that is a little bigger for a higher resolution screen. I'm having trouble finding any. I think it would be awesome for skin makers to start making two versions of their skin so that when people need something a little bigger for visibility they can select that option and it'll get a larger but still clean version of the art files.

yea. it is very difficult to scale pictures up so they look good.
it would be better to include high-res images in your skin and let rainlendar scale them down.
That way when you select a bigger scale, in skin options, the image should look nice.
