
Seven - Gadget or able put On Desktop Position

Posted by Exercase - 2010/05/13 06:53

Hello,

Rainlender V2.6 work on Seven but you couldn't choose (Don't really work) Desktop Position. Could you correct this or better do Rainlender like a Seven Gadget ?

Else Wonderful soft very very thank for it :)

Regards, ExA.

Making a Windows gadget out of Rainlendar is not really an option but Rainmeter has a new kind of implementation for the "On desktop" feature which works in Windows 7 too. I can see if it's possible to make use it in Rainlendar too. In the mean time you can use Win+M to get to the desktop as it will keep Rainlendar visible and minimize the other windows.

Hello,

NB : First sorry i've Change User Name 'cause the First was False and i couldn't Modify it nor Delete my old profile :(

I've wait for a moment to write back about this problem in Windows Seven with Rainlender. And i would know if you think you correct the On Desktop Option for Win Seven ?

I've another question it's possible to change by setting in Rainlender the Datas/Confgs Default Folder (.rainlendar2) cause Rename it on windows .rainlendar2 is impossible cause the . at the start :d and also i've a Data/Cfg Partion so if i could transfert it on it when i reinstall Windows i haven't to think to save this folder :D

Thx in Advance for any informations and best regards ExA

NB : Sorry for my English, i'm a poor French people and a my english is not very good :(

The "On Desktop" should work also on Windows 7 in the latest beta version.

You can use the --config command line argument to change the config folder location.
