
Todo List due date headings

Hi Rainy,

Just a couple of cosmetic features I hope you can implement for the todo list one day:

Could you please add an advanced option for the Todo section which allows you the option to collapse all overdue items to a single heading called "Overdue" as opposed to having overdue items show up as "Last Wednesday, Last Thursday," etc.

This way all items which are overdue can be put together and I can easily see all urgent/overdue items under one heading.

Also is there any ability to change the "Unknown" text todo heading for items with no due date? I would like to customize this to "Not Set", "No Due Date", "Anytime" or something similar as 'unknown' does not really apply to my Todo items - These items are more likely ones that can be completed at any spare moment with no real urgency.

Cheers,

Yes, I can probably add such setting. Currently the "Unknown" text can be changed only with a language file. But yes, it's not very good text for its purpose so I'll change it to something else.

yes, I also would like to change the word "Unknown" to something else... probably "No Dates" or something similar.
