Would like to be informed of new Betas

Is there any way to be informed when a new Beta comes out?

Could there be a 2nd mailing list for betas or is it possible to be auto mailed when a new topic (i.e. new beta) appears in the Beta forum?

A new mailing list is not an option since the service provider has prohibited mass emailing so I'd have to send the mails from an other server and it takes too much work.

I could create a single topic where the new betas are announced so you could subscribe to it. Although, if there will be too many subscribers my account might get suspended...

It's not important enough to risk suspension but if there's an easy/safe way it would be good.
