
Outlook 2007/2010 To-Do and Rainlendar tasks

Hello,

I'm using Outlook 2007 and Outlook show flagged E-Mails in the task section of the calendar. The flagged e-mails are collected in a search folder in Outlook (Follow-Up). I found a similar post from last year: Outlook To-Do List vs. Tasks

Is it foreseeable if and when it will be possible to display this Outlook To-Do elements (flagged e-mails) in the Rainlendar tasks window?

Kind regards

delta

The To-Do List is a virtual folder which seems to be internal for Outlook (or at least I haven't found any way to get access to it). It might be possible to show also the flagged emails in Rainlendar by enumerating the user's inbox but at least from performance point of view that probably would not be a good idea.
