Fixed Height

I have been creating "sidebar" skins to match Winstep themes.

The skins include Calendar, Agenda & To Do elements on the right side of the screen.

Is it possible to fix the height of the sidebar and let the agenda items move over the blank space. If you have ever seen Desktop Sidebar, that's the kind of look I'm trying to achieve.

Thanks

Yes, you can define a fixed height for the window (just give some value for the "h" attribute). However, it's not possible to make it depend on the resolution so the height needs to always be fixed to some absolute value (you can make it a variable though).

Thanks, I'll give it a try. It does seem to disappear the bottom image when I add it. It is currently defined by:

You can define the location of the bottom bitmap with absolute value too since you now know how high the window is.

Great, works exactly like I wanted.

Thanks
