Event and ToDo Recurrence Enhanced

Hi, is it possible that you add Hours and Minutes in combobox, in tab Recurrence for Events and ToDo items?

For example, I want to set a reminder every 2 hours to take a break.

I use Rainlendar 2.7 Lite.

Thanks.

At the moment that is not possible. Rainlendar hasn't been designed so that an event could be shown multiple times on the same day.

Will you add this feature soon? I think it's so useful for people that need frequent reminders (eg. for break or take a pill, etc.)

Unlikely since it requires a lot of changes how the events and tasks are handled internally. As a workaround you can create multiple events.

I have created multiple events as a workaround, but how about adding "Work days" and "Weekend days" as options in the dropdown?

For example, I want to be reminded to stretch my back hourly only when I am at work, so mon-fri.

You can make a weekly recurring event and tick the days when you want the event to occur.

What about my suggestion (Recurrence every XX HOURS/MINUTES)?

Current version now is 2.9, but this "feature" hasn't been added yet :S

I think that kind of events could be automatically to avoid your concern, mentioned before.

Is that possible?

The problem is not how to show them in the windows but how Rainlendar handles the events and tasks internally. it's not likely that this functionality will be added to Rainlendar so you could consider using some timer application for this kinds of tasks instead a calendar.
