Newbie Help Please

Posted by Jem - 2011/01/19 15:41
_____

OK, I'm not normally thick but I'm struggling. I want to create a simple TO DO List for different days with no time constraints. I don't want to fiddle around setting times when they are not relevant. Just my 'daily task list' - simple, or it should be. Is it possible to do that?

Thanks.

============================================================================

Re: Newbie Help Please

Posted by Rainy - 2011/01/20 11:52
_____

I'm not sure I understand what you are trying to do. Do you want a separate to do list for each day? That is not possible. There is just one todo list in Rainlendar (or well, you can create multiple but that requires some work). If you want day specific content you could consider using events instead.

============================================================================