Hello,

I have just download the 2.8 version, i had a look with the English version and all working good but when i download the greek language from the "Languages" of this site and trying to right click on the TODO and select "New Task" the program crashed!

- Thanks! :unsure:

Hello and welcome to the forum.

I can tell you that this isn't a Rainlendar2 bug. This was a problem on the Greek localization. The item "%ith" was translated as "%n" instead of "%in" (i know, this isn't a n letter but a nu Greek letter. This forum doesn't support Unicode. the %i means "here goes a number" in the C programming language)

I updated the Greek localization in the Download Language page.

The last Greek localization was from 2010-08-06. If you like Rainlendar2 and want to collaborate you can help in the translation. You can check here how:
