Double sized by JorgeLuis

Updated to the latest version yesterday. It turned out like this:

<http://db.tt/cEc82qF>

It was very easy to fix but why did it look like this?

Could you tell me how did you do to fix that? (At first sight it looks like a problem with the width and height)

EDIT: I'm thinking that you had some values for width and height which doesn't used before. In v1.1 i added the variables to modify the size. Then, the window started to use a non-default value. (default are 390x330, and maybe was stored e.g. 100x120). One way to restore to default values is ¿leaving/lefting? empty (sorry, i don't know which one is correct) the variables on the variables window.

I just edited the width and height. Was a bit surprised though why it looked like this from the start. Thanks by the way for this enlarged calendar! VERY nice for large monitors and/or bad eyesight.

Thanks you again for using the skin. Without users the skin would be nothing. I supposed that was the problem. I write the reason in the edited previous post.

Yet another minor problem. I have failed to get a red circle (or rectangle) around today's date in the double sized calendar. Please help!

In my pc it works ok. But, to be sure that its a skin problem try this:

- * rename the file "Shadow4 - Double Sized.r2skin" to something else e.g. "DoubleShadow4.r2skin".
- * Refresh Rainlendar2.
- * The old skin will disappear from screen. Go to Options and add the window from the renamed file.

This will "install" a fresh calendar window, and not over the previous calendar data.

If this works ok, then you will need to erase all lines in Rainlendar2.ini which contains data about the window ( and at least).

Tell me if this solved the problem.

No, sorry. Did not work out OK. But it changed the month to February anyway. ;)

The last thing i could say is:

- * close Rainlendar2
- * Download again the "Shadow4 - Double Sized.r2skin" file.
- * Rename user folder to something else.
- * Start Rainlendar2 again (to make a full fresh user folder)
- * Install r2skin

If this works, there is something wrong in the ini file. If not... sorry, i'm out of ideas :woohoo:

The differences between Double Sized and normal one are only images and locations :dry: . The calendar drawing mode is the same. I didn't touch that part. So, if Shadow4 looks ok then Double Sized should be looks the same :huh: .

Thanks! It works as expected. Now I just have to fix all my settings. He, he! I learn something new every time I do that.

Tried out the double sized skin on my wife's computer. Same problem there - no more red circle around Today. So I definately won't try this skin on my son's computer - a bit sad, though, as he's the one who'd benefit from a larger calendar.

Sorry... i had a network problem.

I was trying to upload the file but was too big for the forum. I already uploaded it on the deviantART site, please, try again on the site. It's a small change, i'm not sure if it can help to solve the problem. So... i'm crossing my fingers.

Still says 1.1 on deviantART, though. Sadly, we didn't get our red circles back. :-(

I didn't change the text until i know that is working right. Only the file. Did you download the file, no?

Are the circles working on the original Shadow4 but not in the Double Sized?

You can change the variables in the original Shadow4 but changes in Double Sized do anything?

Did you set the variables "Shadow4 - Double Sized::Today_Color_DS" and "Shadow4 - Double Sized::Today_Shape_DS"?

Is there any error on Rainlendar2.log (in user folder) about "Double Sized"?

If it doesn't work, sorry. I hope that someone else could do a better skin.

Or maybe Rainy will have a better idea of what is working wrong.

I tried the skin and at least on my computer the today marker is shown just fine.

- I downloaded the newer file, yes.

- Red circles not working in either skin now. :(

- I changed to orange and back to red. No difference.

- No error regarding Double Sized in log.

- Someone else do a better skin? I doubt that very much. :)

I'd better uninstall and then reinstall perhaps.

Uninstalled, downloaded new version. Installed. Red circle in calendar! :-)

Installed Double Sized - still red circle! :-D

Tweaked Rainlendar to my liking. Huh!? Red circle disappeared. Got it back when I unselected Show no icons. But I don't want the icons cluttering up the calendar. But I want my red circle!!

Ohhhhhh!!! I see it now!!! :woohoo: :woohoo:

The Today bitmap disappear with the icons too! The option "Show no icons" was added in the previous beta, so maybe is there the problem, not in the skin. The Today marker also disappear in my normal Shadow4 calendar.

- 29 Jan 2011

o Added new option for "Combine icons in the calendar" not to show any icons.

Did you use icons in another calendar? If not, i could upload here a basic version with no icons for categories. In which language do you prefer? (to save space because the 120 kb limit).

Kimmo will fix this minor problem in a future build, he says. :-)

Even removing unwanted languages it's too big! (of course... it have big numbers ;) )
I upload the file here <http://jfourigse.comlu.com/Shadow4-DS.r2skin>
Don't set the option "Show no icons" until next version :D

Complained to Kimmo that some texts were not translated in the calendar of the recent beta. Got this answer:
"The Shadow4-DS skin uses an old text in the description so there is no translation for it anymore."

When will an update be available?

Yes...
I update the descriptions. Tell me if you found another old text.

From the latest betas, when you hide the icons the circle for today don't hide anymore, so you can download the version from deviantART.

Hello,

I know the thread started more than one year ago but I just installed the skin and it's great so I wanted to thank you for your work.

I also have two questions if I may. Not sure actually if they are related to the skin or the "engine" but will see...

1) I know it's possible to lock the windows on the deskop (and I did it) but if we click the "show desktop" button (bottom right corner in Win 7) all the Rainlendar windows are also reduced. Is there any way to keep them visible? This will be very usefull particularly with this skin.

---

2) I am using the 12 months view. Any chance to add in a future release two buttons (left and right arrows for instance) around the year in order to display year+1 or year-1?

Thank you

Gilles

Welcome to the forum, Gilles.

1) In the General tab in Options there is the setting Position. I have selected "On desktop" and when pressing the button everything stays there. Check that option.

2) That would be easy. I didn't do it because I only made a bigger copy of the original skin, without any mod. Give me a couple of hours and I see what I can do.

This file will update the skin to bring the option to add the 2 arrows.
By default, the option is set to hide them. You can enable from the skin settings.

Your add-on is exactly what I needed!

And your answer to my first question is also a perfect match.

All this in few hours...

A big thank you sir.

Since I am a "Rainlendar very satisfied customer" now, let me contribute with a lot of humility to the community.

Actually the "June" month is misspelled in french.

Here is the skin pack with the missing letter added.
