2 calendars displayed?!

hi there,

sorry, im a bit of a noob. I looked up all these FAQ's and forums because I was interested in changing the colours of event categories. After a bunch of figeting around, I managed to do it, but then I realized that I now had TWO rainlendars open on my desktop, both which show the new colours, but do not both change when I do things like not showing week numbers. I thought maybe I had just opened rainlendar twice or something, but when i exit it, both disappear! Am I missing some kinda setting here? Any help would be greatly appreciated! Thank you so much!

Hi!

Check the Rainlendar options, under Skins in the Advanced mode. Under "Active Skins",see if you have more than one instance of "Calendar" listed under "Windows" - you may have added a second one by mistake. If so, remove one (preferably the one with fewer customized settings you made :S ).

More details in Rainlendars Help file, listed in Options -> Skins.

I hope this helped you!
