Problem with Shadow4 and Sidebar

Hi,

if I use the Shadow4.r2skin-addon in any other language than english I get the attached display-error. The window titles from the "Events" and the "TO DO" window are stretched from a certain width.

This does only occur if I use the "Sidebar"-Window. If I use seprate windows there is no display error at all.

Just another question:

I used Rainlendar 1 before and there I got an popup alarm for every event. The "All day events" generated an popup alert on windows start up. This was pretty cool.

Now this wont work for me anymore, instead there is an task bar icon. But I dont want to use this, because my task bar is hidden by default. Any chance to get all the popups back?

greetings,

The marginals are defined incorrectly in the sidebar. I'll fix them.

I'll also consider adding an option to show the today's events in the alarm window instead in the traytip.
