
Changing calendars for an existing event

Posted by bobharvey - 2011/04/07 01:15

Greetings. This is relatively trivial.
Running the latest Pro version.

I have 4 Google calendars linked. Adding events to them is fine.

If I create an event in the wrong Google Calendar attempting to move it is less than successful:

Edit the existing event
Change the pull-down that selects the calendar
Save
You will get a message saying deletion was unsuccessful

Back in Google the event then exists in both calendars, and you have to delete from there.

Otherwise, terrific.

=====

Re: Changing calendars for an existing event

Posted by Rainy - 2011/04/08 04:13

Hmmm... I tried this but wasn't able to reproduce the problem. Are you moving the events between two different Google user accounts or are the calendars under the same account? Can you delete the event manually in Rainlendar or do you have to do that from the Google's web calendar?

=====

Re: Changing calendars for an existing event

Posted by bobharvey - 2011/04/10 16:32

They were in two separate google accounts.

I was able to reproduce the problem. I will try it again tomorrow, when I have a few minutes.

Odd.

=====