

---

Calendar Hosting

Posted by syberjj - 2011/04/13 19:44

---

It would be nice to have an official calendar hosting service from rainlendar.net. The files wouldn't take up to much space and I don't think it uses much bandwidth either. It would be great to have an app that is developed specially to host Rainlendar calendars and it would also be a great source of revenue.

Of course this shouldn't cost to much and should do some basic things like "sync to google" so that it gets interesting for google users. But google still doesn't support tasks and it doesn't seem to be doing that anytime soon (has been more then a year and no effort whatsoever).

Anyway, I would gladly pay U$1 every month or U$ 10 every year to get not only the calendar, but also an official hosting plan. And for the developers this would mean an extra license bought every year by each user.

=====

Re: Calendar Hosting

Posted by Rainy - 2011/04/14 12:17

---

I have thought about that but unfortunately at least at the moment I don't have resources (=time) to create such service.

=====