Syncing Only New Events Google ...

Would it be possible to add an option to only sync today + newer events in the Calendars Settings window?

I am currently sharing a Google calendar with my son and he likes to keep ALL of his appointments in his calendars, whereas I like to keep MY calendar clean by deleting past events.

Having an option to sync only today plus newer would be nice. Or:

Number of days behind to sync "All", "0", "None" ... etc.

I think the problem with this was that earlier Google sent the recurring events separately if a minimum date was defined when reading the calendar. However the latest docs at least don't indicate this anymore so I'll see how it works now.
