Schedule computer shutdown/sleep

Hey there!

Would like to say thank you for creating such an awesome program! I'd be absolutely hooped without Rainlendar reminding me what I need to do so again thank you!

One suggestion I have for a future update would be the ability to have scheduled events (alarms) shutdown or sleep your computer at the time specified. If I could schedule a shutdown event to take place at 10:00pm and have Rainlendar alert me to the event 5 minutes before it happens to give me time to save all of my files etc. it would be a gift from heaven!

You can do that already using the Scheduler, can't you?

You mean in Windows Task Scheduler? Never tried it actually but yes I think its possible. Still, would be a nice feature for Rainlendar as then you can manage everything in one place.
