An idea, Month view schdule show 6 weeks, maybe it can add a setting show only 2 or 3 weeks.

PS. Some users think the month view event's background is ugly when schdule filled with gray color :angry:, maybe adjust the background image's transparency (alpha?) would be better looking B)

It's possible to do this by changing the preshowcount and postshowcount but at the moment you would have to edit the skin manually. The problem with not showing the whole month is that navigation doesn't work properly since you can only change to whole month instead e.g. 2 weeks forward.

The background uses the same image as all the other windows so i'd have to change all of them to keep things consistent. There is an setting to disable the background from the month view though.
