

---

v2.9b111 sometimes defaults to september 2009

Posted by rhino - 2011/09/05 05:39

---

Hi,
I run win7 enterprise with the above rainlendar version. Sometimes when my laptop comes out of sleep rainlendar is showing september 2009. when I go forward to today I see that nothing is damaged.
Do you need any further information?

Cheers,

=====

Re: v2.9b111 sometimes defaults to september 2009

Posted by Rainy - 2011/09/06 11:06

---

Make sure you don't accidentally use the cursor keys when the focus is in Rainlendar's windows since that will change the year/month. You can disable that from Options->Advanced->Disable keyboard shortcuts. If that doesn't help please send the Rainlendar's debug log to the support address with link to this post and I'll see what's happening.

=====

Re: v2.9b111 sometimes defaults to september 2009

Posted by rhino - 2011/09/06 20:21

---

Thanks for the quick response.
I'm pretty sure I didn't touch any cursor keys, but now you've got me thinking. Let me find an example of this happen again under controlled conditions and then I'll be sure it wasn't me and I'll follow this thread and send the log.
Cheers,

=====