
Litestep plugin

Posted by machenzy - 2007/01/05 23:15

Hello!

I always knew Rainlendar because it became with a .dll module for LiteStep.
Rainlendar2 don't come with this sort of plugin (module) but have so much more fonctions and is more and more better.
Could we see a module portability for LiteStep ?
Oh not a complete portability like for the old version...I think a simple module with !bang to control rainlendar2 (and a bang to change skin) could be so good for litestep users!

Is it possible! Easy to realize it? I'm ready to try to realize this! Or/And test it!

Thanx so much
And all my respect for this so used software!

machenzy

Re:Litestep plugin

Posted by Rainy - 2007/01/07 12:56

It will eventually be possible to run the lua scripts from command line which makes it possible to control Rainlendar from 3rd party applications but there are no plans for any special support for Litestep or other 3rd party shells.

Re:Litestep plugin

Posted by machenzy - 2007/01/08 13:04

Thank you for this reply Rainy !

It will eventually be possible to run the lua scripts from command line which makes it possible to control Rainlendar from 3rd party applications

How can make this? Is it hard to do?
bye

Re:Litestep plugin

Posted by Rainy - 2007/01/08 16:40

It is not implemented yet.

Re:Litestep plugin

Posted by machenzy - 2007/01/08 17:00

Ok I'll wait for this 3rd party options ;)
Thank you.
