
Permissions of Pro (Lifetime, Multi System etc?)

Posted by cormie - 2012/02/04 03:23

Hi,
Have been using and relying on rainlendar for a long time now and just wondering if I buy Pro, will the license do me forever and can it be used on multiple computers at the same time and also, can it be used say if I upgrade to a new computer?

The license is personal, so you can use it on as many computers (and OperatingSystems) as you like - as long as it's only you who use the licensed version. But the license is for Rainlendar version 2, you will have to buy a new license when upgrading to version 3 (whenever that will be). And since it's personal, it doesn't matter if the computer is new or old. :silly:

Thanks for the reply, is 3 in the pipe line? I don't want to buy now if it's coming soon :)

The current plan is to keep updating the v2.x so there won't be 3.0 any time soon.

cool, well hopefully the upgrade won't be too soon as there's nothing wrong with keeping numbers below 3 :P

Hi there,

I got around to buying a license, just dropped it into the calendar on the desktop but I've a problem that it's saying I've to buy a license and says it today, 2 days away and 4 days away in the calendar.

Any way to get it to recognise the license properly? Maybe I need to clear some cache somewhere?

Did a system restart and all seems to be perfect now :)
