Mac OS X menu bar problem

Thanks for a terrific application!

As a new user I've found it easy to configure, and a very useful addition to my desktop (on Mac, Windows and Linux machines) - however, I'm experiencing a problem with Rainlendar on my iMac.

I'm running the current version of the OS (10.7.2) and the current release version of Rainlendar (2.9). Everything works as expected, with the exception of the applications menu bar. When I try to access the File menu (to do a manual backup) or try to select any of the menus there is simply no response from Rainlendar at all - none of the menu items work. Given that I'm not experiencing any problems with other applications I can only conclude that it must be a problem with Rainlendar itself.

Any thoughts or suggestions would be welcome.

Regards,

Richard

The problem with the menu has been fixed in the latest beta version.
