To install new skins (.r2skin) you can just drag and drop the file over one of the Rainlendar's windows and it will be installed automatically. In Windows you can install the skin also just by double clicking it. The languages (.r2lang) can be installed the same way as the new skins (i.e. by double clicking or dropping).

Note that if your web browser tries to suggest a different file extension for the new format skins instead of the ".r2skin" you need to rename the file back to its original form. But do this only if the original file had ".r2skin" extension. Renaming old format skins will not make them automatically installable.

after installing the skin, you must restart Rainlendar2 !

Lou, I'm sorry, instead you reply.

evvivame, Only "ChromophoreLou" has this problem? Other skins whether there is? (Example: Shadow4)

View your log, the buttons Previous & Next Month really don't work.
(line 1947&1958 - ERROR: Running function "Global_ShowMonth" failed: attempt to call a nil value)
So I think that all your skins should has the same problem.

The only thing I think could be: Maybe you lost one function file.

I recommend you (re-download) re-install Rainlendar2, that should be able to solve this problem.

Hello Lou.

I'm having the same problem posted in your personal page at:
Customize.org

I love this style but I have a problem, the Todo List and the Event List pop up suddenly to the front, even I dont touch the calender. This popup disturb massive the work. I update to the last version, but there are still this problem. Can you help me.

It was posted by the user "Bruegi" (latest comment - Wed, Jan 30th at 02:20am).

In my case, this happens all the time with the Weather Widget.

I set it to update the weather information every 30 minutes, and when the update occur the "Weather Widget Window" shows up over the top of all other program.

It doesn't matter which program I am using, when the widget updates the weather forecast, its window emerges above any other (get the focus).

Windows 7 64-bit - Aero Theme

Rainlendar v2.11 Build 128 (configured to show "On Desktop")

Thank you very much for all your efforts.

Re:ChromophoreLou

Hi, Lou,

Something very strange happened.

This was the same version I had installed, anyway, I remove all the options that I had selected from ChromophoreLou from the "active skins" right window in "skins", and I downloaded again your skin from the page that you provided. The program told me that the file already existed and asked me to substitute it. I clicked "yes". It said operation sucessfull.

I went again to the options --> skins window, and in chromophorelou activated the digital clock. Now in the options appeared the menu as yours, I checked the options as you sugessted, and... nothing. Remains the same, I dont see the numbers, just the box and the two dots in the middle.

But, the strange thing, is that when I went back to the menu in skin, options, AGAIN, the menu, with the AMPM, blink, and location under windows variables doesnt appear again.

Re:ChromophoreLou

Posted by magus - 2014/03/24 04:16

Well, now I did the following.

I went to the folders, users-->currentuser-->.rainlendar2-->skins and I deleted the two folders I had at the moment, chromophoreLou and chromophoreLou1.

I installed again the skin. It said that was ok.

I went again to the options, skins, window and now ChromophoreLou appears as ChromophoreLou2, I activated the digital clock, went to the active skins windows, and the menu with the windows variables appears again, I checked the options as you suggested, clicked in ok, and... the program crashed.

I restarted again, and the program started but I lost all the settings I had before.

I went again to the active skin window and activate again the ChromophoreLou2 digital clock, the menu with the windows variables appears again, I cheked the options as you recommended, clicked again, and... your digital clock appears correctly, but none of the other options I had before...

So, for the moment your digital clock works, let's see what happens when I refurbish the rest of the options and settings.

Best regards.

Win 8.1 Pro 64 bit
Rainlendar Pro 2.12.2 64 bit

I downloaded and installed ChromophoreLou today, but I can't change the weather location - it show's Paris' weather. I understand how to get location code, but have no way of entering the code. The only options I see in window variables are "Weather Degree Type" and "Weather Location," which has selections for the four MSN types, but cannot be edited.

Thanks for a great skin! What am I doing wrong with the weather?

Probably a problem with the installation...

FAQ : How can I install skins or languages?

When you download ChromophoreLou.r2skin
Sure that the file is not renamed!!!

go to Options/SKINS/Available skins and remove any skins ChromophoreLou !

install the skin ChromophoreLou.r2skin just by double clicking it after restart rainlendar :

Ok. How do I find out what wc:id I need?

P.S. I did it, following the instructions. If I move weather from the list of skins to the right field, I can set wc:ID; options look normal. After update, options return to the state, which screenshot I posted above.

Hi Lou,

thank you for v1.5.28 BETA 5! Now the weather is working again.

But I got only the weather for Paris, and no way to change the location.
This is because I can't install the skin correctly, because the file is recognized as 'ChromophoreLou.r2ski' (I posted some months ago).

Now I've found a workaround. For all that have similar problems:

1. Set Rainlendar to a standard skin and close it.
2. Go to your folder rainlendar2/skins and make sure that there is no file ChromophoreLou.r2skin in it.
3. Download the actual ChromophoreLou.r2skin and save it somewhere outside of rainlendar2, then unpack it.

4. Open the unpacked folder 'ChromophoreLou' and open the file 'skin.xml' in an editor.
5. In line #67 you will see '

Hi Matti,

Go to your folder Rainlendar2/skins and put the "ChromophoreLou" folder, needless to compressed *.zip and rename *.r2skin !!!

looks:

I just saw that when used compressed skins *.r2skin, that there is a problem to display the Variables of the window...

I go back the problem to Rainy !

The reason I need to know today's weather is that the weather changes all the time. Two days ago I got caught in the rain, because I got used to consider the first day in the row as today.

Usually when it's cloudy, the first part of a day is just cloudy, the second is rainy or vice versa. That's why the information above the row of days is useless at least for me.

I know the temperature and the atmospheric precipitations without looking at the widget, since I can see that through the window.

Hi Lou I love your skin but I can't seem to get the weather to work.
I live in Puerto Madryn Argentina, and weather com gives me this code ARCT9120:1:AR and it's not working.
msn shows this on the url /en-us/weather/today/Puerto-Madryn,Chubut,Argentina/we-city--42.771,-65.049?iso=AR&form=PRWLAS&q=Puerto%20Madryn%2C%20Argentina is there anything from there I can use?
Yahoo gives me 91863269 and it works partially with other skins (only current weather, not forecast)
I also tried to look for the codes in weather page codes, but my country!!! doesn't show up! unbelievable!

Hello,

Is there a way to change the "indices" on the stock market windos? I want to watch the ones for my own country.

Bye and thanks

Hi, is there a way to make the weather larger without using the scale option? When I try the scale it makes the fonts look fuzzy. I have a monitor with a high resolution and the weather is too small to read easily with the default size.

My monitor is 2560x1440. I scaled it to 125% and it is fuzzy. I would like it larger but it is too fuzzy then.

Hi, with the beta I cannot see the days in the Calendar window.
With the last non beta version sunrise and sunset time are all the same for the next days (which should not).

Regards.
