Default visibility

Is it possible to set a default visibility for new events?

I'm using Rainlendar with my Google calendar and when I create a new event it's set to 'private' by default. But my calendar is shared with others and they can't see any event details when it's set to private.

Cheers,
Martin

You want to set 'public' by default?

Create a new blank event, uncheck the Private mark and click on Template menu.
Save it with any name. Then select on the same menu the option for default template. Select yours. That's all!
