

---

Problems adding events to Hotmail/Outlook.com

Posted by derausgewanderte - 2012/09/11 23:19

---

sorry if this has been discussed before. Can't find anything on it. I have been using Rainlendar successfully with Outlook 2010 32bit for a while. I just wanted to get rid of Outlook (switching email clients) and just connect to my Calendar online (<https://bay03.calendar.live.com/calendar/calendar.aspx>) and use the webcal://cid-xxxxxxxxxxxxx.calendar.live.com/calendar/MyName%27s+calendar/calendar.ics.

Rainlendar loads the ics fine. However when I try to enter an event in Rainlendar I receive an error message that the process is forbidden.

Is this not possible on hotmail or outlook.com? I made it public but nothing works.

thanks

---

Re: Problems adding events to Hotmail/Outlook.com

Posted by Rainy - 2012/09/12 11:46

---

I think the Live calendar publishes the events only as read-only mode so the server won't accept any modifications.

---

Re: Problems adding events to Hotmail/Outlook.com

Posted by Krooms - 2013/05/22 17:55

---

@derausgewanderte: can you explain how you got your live calendar working with rainlendar? I don't get it working, not even in read-only mode.

---