icalexchange problem

I'm having consistent problems sharing an ics file between my wife and myself. Lots of errors like:

Unable to connect to the host. I'll try again after one minute.

Since we are on a home network isn't there some way she can use an ics file on my computer or vice-versa?

If you can guarantee that you don't make simultaneous changes to the file I guess you can just put it into a shared folder.

I think I've already tried that - got an error about mapping the network drive and UNC paths.

Did I skip a step or something?

Do as the error message says and map the network drive (in Explorer Tools->Map Network Drive).
