
Notifications on PC: a) always b) break games

Posted by capturable - 2012/11/24 03:08

Hi,

I'd exclusively want to use the exact notifications I set up for an event. But if I set up SMS reminder only, it also reminds on the PC, which is often annoying. Often very loud for me and:

For instance in Gaming, it puts the fullscreen gaming windows in the back (invisible then) and comes to front.

So: Please no additional PC alarms, which cannot be turned off.

TIA

Michael

What you could do is to create a second calendar and enable the "Ignore alarms" option for it. You can then choose the second calendar when you want to add an alarm which only shows in the Google calendar.
