Make My Events Available to Other Users..

My computer got hacked recently and I could only operate by logging on as a different user. I had to make a new admin account and use the new account.

That was fine, sort of, but the biggest hassle was not having my rainlendar schedules available.

It would have been nice if I could have told Rainlendar in the old account to make all these appointments, event, available to the new account but I see no such facility.

Does it exist, or could it exist?

If you can access the user folder of the old account you can copy all the files to the new account. see http://www.rainlendar.net/cms/index.php?option=com\_easyfaq&Itemid=26#faq1
