Please add some standard icons (and categories)

Is it possible to add more standard icons for the categories?

I prefer to have "smile face" and "sad face" - they are quite universal (You have them even here in forum).

Additionally, is it possible to add standard "sad/mourning" category? The life is not only joy, sometimes it's necessary to remember about sad event as well.

(I know, it's possible to create the category myself, but I think this is quite typical).

Rainlendar has the most common categories. There are an unlimited number of possible categories, that's why the create added.

You can add your own icons and select them. You only need a 16x16 and a 12x12 pictures.

I'm not saying "sad it's bad", but think if everyone ask for a category to show the scheduled time of they favourite sport team...

I was thinking some long ago on a "icon pack"...

I understand that the new categories could be created, therefor my request is optional.

However, right now there is quite a disbalance between positive and not-so-positive events, therefor I thought one additional "sad" category could be useful.

Well, in today's world "the customization is the best way of the monetization" :P

I beleive, there are some people, who will pay additional money to get their special calender about their favourite sport team...

That's a good idea. Perhaps you could define new categories with the pack too. I'll think about this.
