I translated a whole language, where is my prize?

It was a long and difficult ride.

The translation from English to Hebrew took me a lot of effort because there are crucial differences between LTR and RTL languages. the already translated material was completely incorrect and I had to start almost from scratch. in addition the Translation file was faulty, full with version holes so I had to fix it by combining and updating it with a blank one with all the required fields.

so much time and effort..

at least i'll be worthy to get my hard won pro version? :)

Just send email to Rainlendar's sales email address with your real name and email address and I'll create the license for you.
