Add Google Calendar color support

Hello,

I use Rainlendar in synchronisation with Google Calendar. It's awesome that way ;).

The new Google Calendar app has been updated with the functionality to easily change the color of each event. This is (has been for long) also present in the web application.

If you use a Google account, it would be cool to have a simple option to change the color of an event in Google Calendar, and maybe the color of the number in the Rainlendar widget could change too.

Just a suggestion!

Greetings! <http://www.rainlendar.net/cms/images/fbfiles/images/Capture-e04f67a8b65f1824a18405f1191c7896.PNG>

The problem is that Rainlendar's skin that one is using might not have the same colors (or use colors at all). There are plans though to allow mapping of the colors to Rainlendar's categories.

Well that's true.. Should you be bored, maybe a separate field for that?
