Undo option

Hi,

Please consider adding an 'undo' to actions such as snooze, dismiss, multi snooze/dismiss, delete Especially important I think if you multi delete/dismiss items as it will be hard to remember what you did. Yes, I have reverted to the backups you so conveniently create :)

Thanks.

Undo for the alarms might be possible but for delete it's really difficult especially with 3rd party calendars like Outlook and Google Calendar since Rainlendar does not store all the information about the events so it would not be possible to recreate them. One option might be to use some kind of "Trashcan" calendar where the events are moved when deleted but it gets quite complex and I'm not sure if that can be even done with all the 3rd party calendars.

I see your point. The feature does make sense though, but should also consider the consequences, and if the cost is instability or lack of compatibility then it's not worth it.
