aloha,

does anybody know whether it's possible to change the colours of ... for example of the week days or of predefined type of events like it was possible in the older version by means of the text editable file (in located in the program dir) where used to be all the values???

Those are defined in the skin file. There is no documentation about the format yet but if you want to take a look at it just rename the extension from .r2skin to .zip and unzip it.

great, thanks a lot, but it seems to be a little bit more complicated then the it used to in the previous version, i would be grateful if you could tell what kind of modifications do i have to do if i want to add one more kind of event (like "work", "trip") apart from copying the png files (images/icons) to the skin zip archive? there are even some png files which can be used but it's not used (polish pack) and one more question in which file is written the colour of weekend days (originally it is pink) i have tried to change it in the other skin file (xml/calendar) but it is not working...
