
adding multiple calendars at once

Hello,

I have one other suggestion. I am using several google calendars (but with only one google account) and every time that I am installing Rainlendar, I need to add each google calendar seperately. It is somehow not possible to directly add all google calendars that are linked to this one account. I know, it is not a big deal to do it all seperately, but maybe it is possible to change that ?

If you always add the same calendars you could just take a backup (File->Backup in the manager) and restore it. You'll get all the other settings transferred too.
