
Audible event alarm during computer sleep?

How can I setup Rainlendar to wake up my computer and sound an audible alarm for an event? I have Windows 7. I like to have my computer go to sleep mode after 15 minutes but I don't want to miss an appointment reminder audible alarm.

There have been no replies to my question so I guess Rainlendar can't wake a computer in sleep mode. I'm going to try VueMinder.

That is not possible at the moment since the application is not running when the computer is sleeping. This might be possible through hardware interrupts but at least current they are not supported by Rainlendar.
