Rainlendar and Baikal

Hey!

I just installed the CalDAV Server Baikal on my NAS and I'm not able to add the calendars to the latest (2.12.1.b137) Rainlendar version (licensed Pro Version).

It works if I set the authentication type to "basic" in the baikal settings menu, but I want to use the default "digest" auth type. The error message is "Unable to authenticate to server."

Greetings

Did you check the Rainlendar's debug log? Does it contain any additional details about the error when you try to use a different authentication method?

Ok I finally got it working now :)

It is possible to use digest authentication if you set it after adding the calendar to Rainlendar. Just set the auth type in the options menu.

Thanks anyway for the support and thanks again for this awesome software.
