
events in read-only

Posted by crysman - 2014/01/29 03:08

hi, sorry for my English, i'm french i have a problem with events in read-only my version : 2.12.1 b137

i added Outlook calendar in rainlendar, my events from Outlook (birthday) are in read-only i wanted to add alarm on these events but with the read-only i can't then i tried to copy an event in the default calendar to try if in default the read-only goes away, but now i have 2 similar event (one in Outlook and one in default) the two are in read-only and i can't delete the one i copied

i hope my explanations are clear enough and thank you for your answers

=====

Re:events in read-only

Posted by crysman - 2014/01/29 04:00

in fact i just want to know if it is possible to remove the read-only from the Outlook events, so that i can add alarm on these events, or if someone has another solution to add an alarm on a Outlook event thanks

=====

Re:events in read-only

Posted by Rainy - 2014/01/29 09:51

Are the events real appointments in Outlook or are you using the "Read birthdays from contacts" feature?

Rainlendar sets recurring Outlook events read-only if they have changes in one or more instance. This is because Rainlendar does not currently support editing single instance of a recurring events so your changes would be lost. If you want to edit such events (e.g. add the alarm) you need to do that in Outlook.

If you use the "Read birthdays from contacts" feature then there are no real events at all since Rainlendar is dynamically creating them when it reads the information from Outlook. In this case you can set the "Default alarm" for the calendar but note that it will affect all the other events in the same calendar too.

=====

Re:events in read-only

Posted by crysman - 2014/01/29 14:12

yes i use the "read birthdays from contacts" feature i understand that i can't set an alarm for each separately but only the default alarm for all, is that right ?
where is the window for setting the default alarm ?
thank you for your answer

=====

Re:events in read-only

Posted by crysman - 2014/01/29 15:18

hi
i found the window to set the default alarm
it is in "options/calendars" much thanks to Rainy for his help bye

