
Dismiss event not synchronized anymore

Posted by mike4rainlendar - 2014/02/10 20:56

I re-added all of my Calendars as Google v3 calendars. Now it seems that when I dismiss an event on one client, it's not synchronized with other clients. Other rainlendar clients still report the alert event after the poll frequency time, or even after a refresh/restart. This worked on previous version of google calendars, but not now with Google v3 calendars. Has anybody else noticed this?

The dismiss information is written to the event which should make other clients to hide the alarm. I'll see if I can reproduce this...
