Monthly to do lists

Ok, I'm very new to skinning, so I thought I'd ask if my idea was even possible before I try.

What I want to make is a new window that has twelve columns (one per month) and in each column would be a list of my tasks due that month (or starting that month, I haven't decided yet).

Is this even vaguely possible?

Probably not, or at least not very easily. You could create a separate calendar for each of the list but it's not possible to limit the content so that the list would show only the task for a specific period.

Probably for the best, I perhaps need to start with something easier anyway. I don't suppose there's any way to change just the time slots that 'to do list' shows? At the moment when sorted by due date, it give a new heading for each day, could it be altered so that headings were monthly?
