- * Go to Options->Skins
 - * Click "Advanced >>>"
 - * Move the "Day View" window from the available list to the active side

Great, one last question, if you don't mind...

I'd like to display a single gcal calendar on the day view... in gcal I have all the different events (from the same calendar) with different colours, is your program able to import the color or simply, color coding based on the event title?

I'm trying the pro version and I can't color the events... basically it is saying that the event is read only...so that's why I asked for a title color coding
