

---

Absolute Newby Questions

Posted by zenonp - 2014/03/31 21:37

---

I have had several hours on Rainlendar and have finally discovered that it already had me registered from months ago which explained why could not register again. Ok dumb me. But now I am still in a loop because I paid for the PRO version and received a license but there is no indication what to do with it so I can connect my calendar to my Google calendar. So (1) How do I tell Rainlendar2 my key number so I can use the PRO features (it did not ask for a number) and (2) where do I get the Google Add-On that will allow me to connect my desktop calendar to my Google Calendar.

Thanks for any help for this poor Newby.
:unsure:

=====

Re: Absolute Newby Questions

Posted by Rainy - 2014/04/01 12:09

---

1. Right click on the calendar and choose "Install the license" (Make sure you have Rainlendar Pro installed or you won't see the menu item.
  2. Go to Options->Calendars. Click "Add" button and select "Google Calendar (v3)" as the new calendar type.
- =====