
For those having skin trouble

Posted by PCnerd - 2007/02/03 09:39

I may have figured out why folks are having trouble with skins.

I uninstalled the old rainlendar version. The old skins where not deleted from the old installation files.

I installed the new version. To save time unzipping all the skins I liked, I simply copied and pasted them into the Rainlendar2/skins folder.

What I didn't realize, was that when I had uninstalled the old version, it had also deleted the .ini files in each of the skins folders.

To fix;
Delete all the additional skins (other than the one it came with) from your skins folder, and extract a fresh copy of each skin.

Either refresh Rainlendar2, or restart the computer. Then use the Rainlendar2 "Options"/ "skins" function to switch to the new skin.

=====